

The Monroe County Bar Association announces

CLE Lunch and Learn Seminar Series:

“Local Regulation of Oil and Gas Development Activities: an Update”

"In recent years, few local government issues have created as much controversy - or stirred as much passion -- as the question of what authority municipalities have to regulate oil and gas development activities through land use ordinances. This "lunch and learn" will discuss the latest judicial and legislative developments concerning this issue, with the goal of preparing practitioners for what to expect, should drilling begin in the Delaware River Basin and Monroe County."
